

EVERY WALK IN LIFE.

A. A. Boyce, a farmer, living three and a half miles from Trenton, Mo., says: "A severe cold settled in my kidneys and developed so quickly that I was obliged to lay off work on account of the aching in my back and sides. For a time I was unable to walk at all, and every make-shift I tried and all the medicine I took had not the slightest effect. My back continued to grow weaker until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and I must say I was more than surprised and gratified to notice the back ache disappearing gradually until it finally stopped."

Doan's Kidney Pills sold by all dealers or mailed on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

An English Tolstoy Colony.

About five years ago a number of persons, tired of modern civilization, founded a Tolstoy colony at White, way, near Stroud. Some interesting particulars of the venture are given in the Anglo-Russian. The rules of the society—that no animal flesh must be consumed, no money used for the buying or selling of commodities, which must be exchanged, that all manufactured articles and imported food must be discarded, that true marriage was the result only of true love and needed no ceremonies—have been observed by the 15 members of the community now on the settlement. Many have found the strict living too much for them and have left. Several cottages have been added to the original house, all of which have been built by the settlers themselves. The health of the colony remains excellent.

American Sailors Suffer at Their Hands in Formosa.

A Dozen Fell Into Their Hands After They Had Abandoned Their Ship—Even the Women Did Not Escape Rough Treatment—Warships Now Searching for Five Who Are Supposed to Be Alive on a Formosa Island.

Washington—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, has dispatched the gunboat Annapolis to Tamsui, Formosa, to make a thorough investigation into the attack on the crew of the American ship Benjamin Seawall, which was abandoned Oct. 5 about 40 miles southeast of the island of Botel Tobago. Upon the result of the mission of the Annapolis will depend the decision of the state department as to whether an inquiry of the Tokyo government is necessary.

Official details of the search for the missing boat's crew from the wreck of the Benjamin Seawall, made by the Don Juan de Austria and the Wilmington are contained in reports received at the navy department.

On the arrival of these gunboats at South Cape, Formosa, the Don Juan de Austria was ordered to proceed to Botel Tobago, where it was learned that three Japanese shipwrecked sailors from the Seawall were to be found. One of these told the story of their experience to Lieutenant-Commander Denfeld, commanding the Don Juan de Austria, briefly to this effect:

The Benjamin Seawall sailed from Singapore for Shanghai with a cargo of tea. When three days out she was struck by a typhoon and lost all three masts. The captain gave the order for all hands to abandon ship. Aoki, who tells the story, went in a boat in charge of the chief officer, together with the third mate and his wife, two Japanese seamen, two Manila seamen, an American negro, a Chinese cook, a Chinese carpenter and a Russian seaman.

Shortly before sunset, on Oct. 10, when five miles from the north shore of the island, they were attacked by four canoes, each manned by about 12 armed savages.

"At this time," said Aoki, "we were rowing with three oars and also held a sail made by piecing together blankets, etc. For provisions we had three cans of pineapples and two or three of milk, with some salt meat and ship's biscuit, the last day."

"The savages ran alongside us, and as many as could clambered on board and stripped us of our skins, not even sparing the woman. We all had some money, and the chief mate, the cook and one of the seamen had watches. They pried off all the brass work, took out the boat plug and capsized the boat. After this they made off, having been with us about an hour. It was now quite dark and we could not see where they went."

Aoki says that the negro and the Chinese cook were drowned 10 minutes after the boat capsized, and later the chief mate, who was an old man. All of the remainder made for the shore, except the third mate, who was an American, and the Japanese woman, who, as she could not swim to the shore, the third mate refused to leave.

When the three Japanese reached the shore they hid among the mountains, fearing another attack from the savages. After remaining in hiding five days they were rescued by a party of natives and brought to the police station.

Will Not Interfere.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt has again declined to interfere in the strike conditions in the Telluride district of Colorado. An appeal from the western federation of miners was presented to the president by Senators Teller and Patterson of Colorado, urging him to exercise federal authority in bringing about an adjustment of the situation which has arisen between the miners and the authorities of the state of Colorado. As stated previously, the president maintains that neither the rights nor the authority of the United States government have been invaded in the Colorado situation and that, therefore, he would not be justified at this time in interfering in the matter in any way.

Epidemic Declining.

Butler, Pa.—Since the last report there have been four more deaths added to the list of typhoid fever victims.

New cases continue to come in at the rate of from 12 to 15 per day, which indicates that the pestilence is subsiding, as 10 days ago the number of new cases was from 20 to 30 a day, while there were as high as 40 cases heaped upon them some days.

As many of the new cases as possible are taken to the hospitals. Systematic relief work has accomplished wonders in relieving the suffering and improving the conditions arising from the epidemic.

Harpists Will Join the Union.

New York, N. Y.—The trouble between the musical protective union and Nathan Franko, concert master of the Metropolitan opera house orchestra, over Mme. Weill and Mme. Luisa Tagliavia, was practically settled by the surrender of the latter. The fair harpists played before a committee of the union, passing a successful examination, and will probably be admitted to membership. It is understood that Franko and Herr Conrad will pay the $200 initiation fee.

Trolley or Man-Horse.

As a result of the introduction of trolley cars into Japan over 2000 rickshaw boys have given up the struggle with the electric car and have decided to emigrate to Hokkaido to engage in the fisheries and to encourage the Japanese "kuruma-ya" in physique form almost a class apart. They are tough, hardy little fellows, and were a valuable asset in Japan's military system in the war with China. In a country where horses are poor and scarce, man-power traction was formerly a necessity. The little kuruma-ya, between the hills of his

A Modern Samson.

At Tisra Sza Miklos, in Hungary, recently, Rudolph Tyrzitz, a man of herculean proportions, was building a stable for a farmer. It was nearly finished when Tyrzitz quarrelled with his employer, and in the heat of argument ran up to one of the pillars of the stable and shook it with such force as to cause the whole building to collapse. Tyrzitz himself was buried among the ruins, and later was dragged out dead.—New York Press.

MORO REVOLT.

Brought About by an Insult to Religious Belief.

Washington—According to a statement made by the Manila Cable News, a copy of which has just been received here, Gen. Leonard Wood's recent campaign against the Moros was brought about by a wanton insult to the Mahometan faith, which is the religion of the Moros.

A Moro, a Mahometan, disemboweled a private of the 15th infantry in the streets of Jolo and was shot to death by members of the regiment. After placing the body of the murderer in a grave soldiers of the 15th infantry, by direction of Lieut.-Col. Rogers of the 15th infantry, suspended a pig over the grave, cut its throat, let its blood drip on the body, and then lowered the dead animal into the grave with the Mahometan.

No more deadly insult could have been offered the Mahometan faith. To the Mahometan the pig is unclean. The believer is strictly commanded not to touch it or eat it, and contact with it is regarded as contamination of the most odious character.

It seems incredible that an American officer could have been so foolish or have purposely aroused the religious fanaticism of the Moros. It was this gross insult to their religion, according to the Cable News, that caused the Moros to take up arms.

Wages Cut at Mines.

Altoona, Pa.—The eyes of every organized miner in this section are turned toward the Meyersdale field, where, it is announced, the Somerset Coal company, the Merchants Coal company and the W. K. Niver Coal company put into effect an agreement between the three corporations reducing the wages of their employees 10 cents per ton on all coal mined.

Reductions of the wages of all men employed on day work will also be made accordingly.

A strike is threatened that will involve more than 2500 men. The majority of the men employed in the Meyersdale field are members of the United Mine Workers' organization.

Organizers and officials of the mine workers are on the ground and meetings are being held with considerable frequency.

The depression in the coal trade is given by the corporations as the reason for the reduction in wages. Should the move on the part of the companies mentioned be a successful one, it will affect the wage rate in other districts.

Plunder Worth $10,000.

Pittsburg—Two men, giving their names as Abraham Thaler and Morris Opar, both 23 years old, of New York, have been arrested here. After the prisoners had attempted to bribe the officers, they were taken to central police station and compelled to disgorge diamonds and other jewelry valued at $10,000.

Besides the jewelry, the men had two revolvers and two pawn tickets from New York brokers. A detailed description of the men and jewelry has been sent to the New York detective department. The valuables, which are supposed to belong to people of the metropolis, consist of several gold watches, diamond scarf pins, diamond rings and necklaces.

After the Smugglers.

Buffalo, N. Y.—The recent drownings of Chinamen who were being smuggled into this country from Canada, U. S. immigration inspectors say, will lead to the breaking up of a gang of smugglers which for several months have been making a specialty of bringing in contraband Chinamen. George C. Keller, proprietor of a livery stable; Charles G. Romer, employed at Keller's; and Mrs. May Simpson, keeper of a boarding house at Elliott and Clinton streets, have been arrested by United States officers. The charge against them is conspiracy to violate the U. S. law by smuggling Chinamen. They pleaded not guilty and were released on $1000 bail each.

Children Now Ill.

Dunstable, Mass.—Three children, of Bartholomew Dunn of Dunstable are ill, and the mother fears that the enemy of the family who poisoned their horses may be threatening the family through the children.

The grand jury in Cambridge will investigate the charge against Edmund Connors of this town that he placed poison in the field where horses could eat it.

Mr. Dunn is unable to learn who is the man that purchased arsenic in a Nashua store, saying it was for him. He says he never authorized any one to do so.

Much More Severe.

Washington, D. C.—The annual report of the attorney general of the United States calls attention to the naturalization frauds disclosed during the last year in every section of the country, and says that every honest citizen is deeply concerned in repelling and preventing dishonest claims to that right. He recommends many changes in the naturalization laws, making them much more stringent and the punishments much more severe.

An old Parisian mendicant was recently noticed to manifest apparent caprice in selecting the objects for his importunity. TUNNELING THE HUDSON.

The idea is by no means one of recent birth.

The idea of tunneling the Hudson is by no means of recent birth. Several attempts in this direction have been made since 1874, when the first company to undertake the construction of a sub-Hudson tunnel came into being. Little progress had been made, however, when, through an accident to the door of an air-lock at a critical moment, the tunnel was flooded and a number of laborers were drowned. The water was pumped out and work resumed, but a bad leak once more caused a long delay. By this time something had been accomplished in both tunnels, but the company had now come to the end of its financial resources, and was obliged to order a permanent cessation of work. The years passed, and eventually an English syndicate undertook to complete the tunnel. In their turn they found the task beyond their powers.

Finally Mr. Jacobs declared his willingness to begin where the others, defeated, had withdrawn. He and his associates are now satisfied that they have solved the most difficult problem likely to arise in this or future subaqueous tunnel work. They have assuredly proved that air, if properly reinforced, will serve to stem the most powerful of torrents and the demonstration of this must be said to mark a milestone in the march of engineering science.—From H. Addington Bruce's "Fighting the Hudson" in the Century.

Wears $1000 Worth of Skins.

Charles W. Condon of Leoux, Ia., began a peculiar lawsuit in St. Joseph, Mo., recently. He had a contract with John W. Mallott for the payment of $1000 for skin that was taken from him and grafted upon Mallott, and says he will bring suit on the contract.

Mallott was a railroad engine driver five years ago, and was seriously injured in an accident. It was necessary to graft skin upon the wound. Condon agreed to submit himself to the physicians and permit them to use from him such skin as was necessary upon a contract with Mallott for the payment of $1000.

The skin was taken from Condon and grafted upon Mallott, who recovered rapidly and was paid $2000 by the railroad company, losing most of the money later in a business venture. Condon is now here to bring suit against the man who is wearing $1000 worth of his skin.—New York Herald.

Italian Women Here.

In 30 years 1,391,976 Italians have come to this country. The immigration has a very peculiar character. Until 1890 the percentage of women was less than 15, but now it has increased to 30. This indicates that the immigration has a marked tendency to become permanent. Thirty percent or more of Italian adults who have been in this country 10 years went back at least once to Italy, and 80 percent of these came to this country again, bringing their families with them. During the time in which the family is not here the man sends money weekly to Italy.—New York World.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one rational remedy, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or ringing in the ears, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by this method. It is not a new discovery. It is a discovery that has been made by the use of the Eustachian Tube. It is not a new discovery. It is a discovery that has been made by the use of the Eustachian Tube. It is not a new discovery. It is a discovery that has been made by the use of the Eustachian Tube.

A Scientific Proposal.

When Lord Kelvin was on his schooner yacht Lalla Rookh in West Indian waters he got up a system of simplifying the methods of signals at sea. He asked Miss Crum, whom he greatly admired, and who was the daughter of his host, if she understood his code. She said she did. "I sent you a signal from my yacht," he asked, "do you think you could read it and answer?"

"Well, I would try," she responded. The signal was sent, and she did succeed in making it out and transmitting the reply. The question was, "Will you marry me?" and the answer was "Yes."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Everybody knows the great value of this remedy in the household, and everybody does not know that the ingredients of it, which some unscrupulous druggists dishonestly join off on their customers, have little or no value. What should be understood by the public is that it is not a mere question of comparative value between "Vaseline" and the imitations, but that the imitations do not effect the wonderful healing results of the well-known "Vaseline," and that they are not the same thing nor made in the same way. Besides this, many of the imitations are harmful irritants and not safe to use, while Vaseline is perfectly harmless.

Perfect safety, therefore, lies in buying only original bottles and never accepting put up by the Cheesbrough Manufacturing Co. Attention is called to their Capsicum Vaseline advertised in another column.
